Star

57

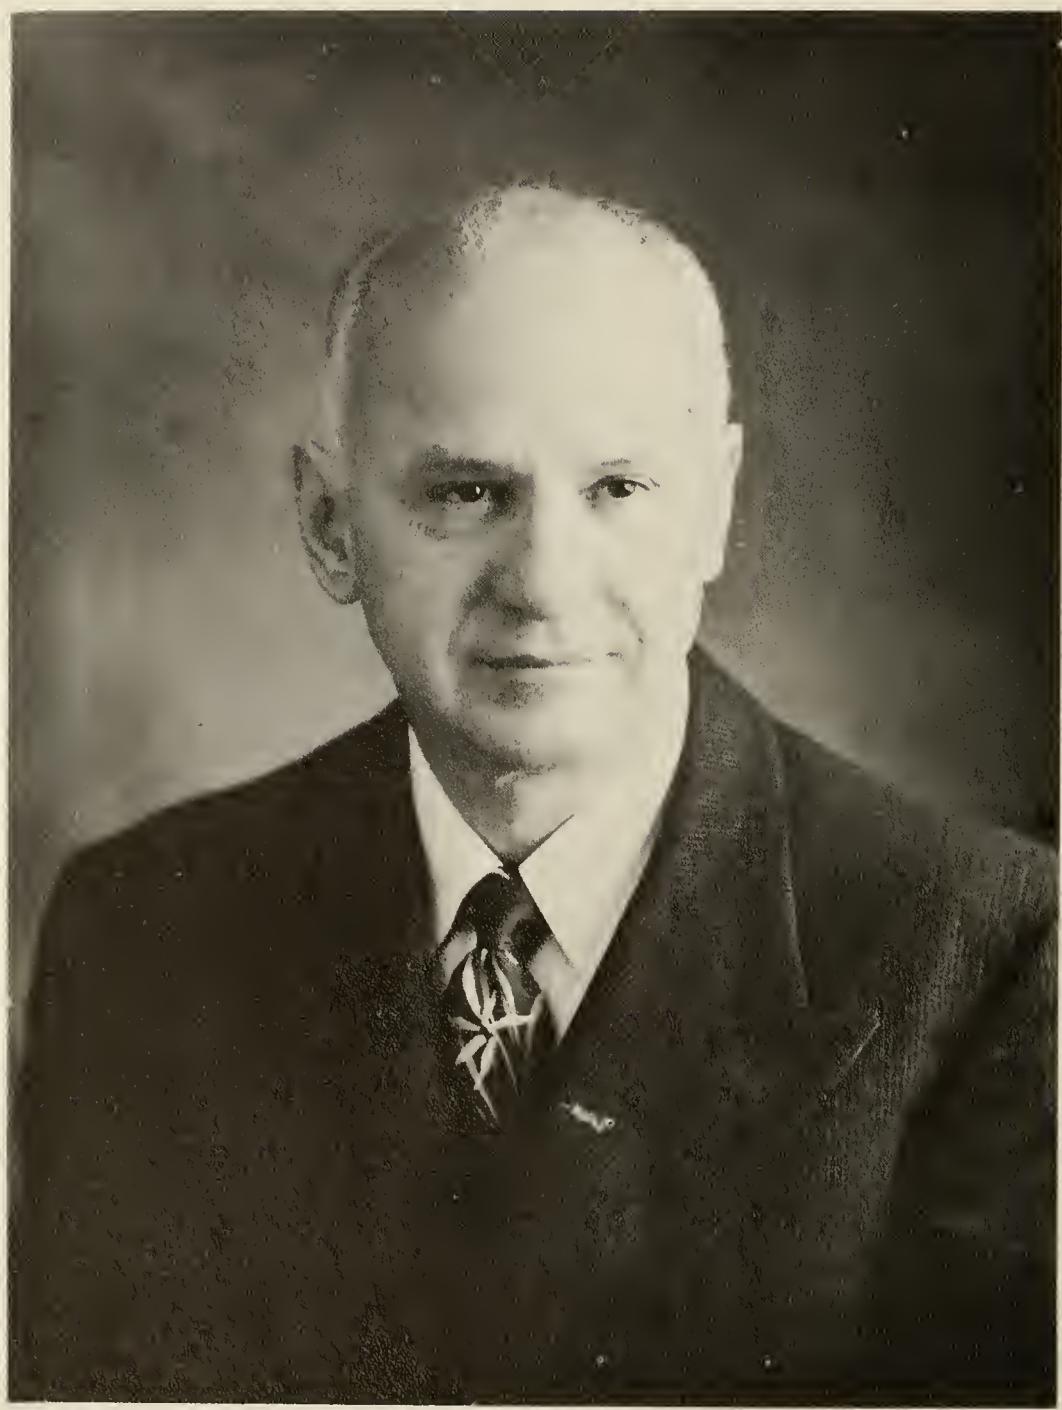

Star for 1957 is a pictorial account of the events which have contributed to this school year. Embodied in these pages are the memories and achievements of the Henderson student. Star for 1957 is another chapter in the Henderson tradition—a tradition of which you are a part and a heritage to which you have contributed.

We Dedicate To

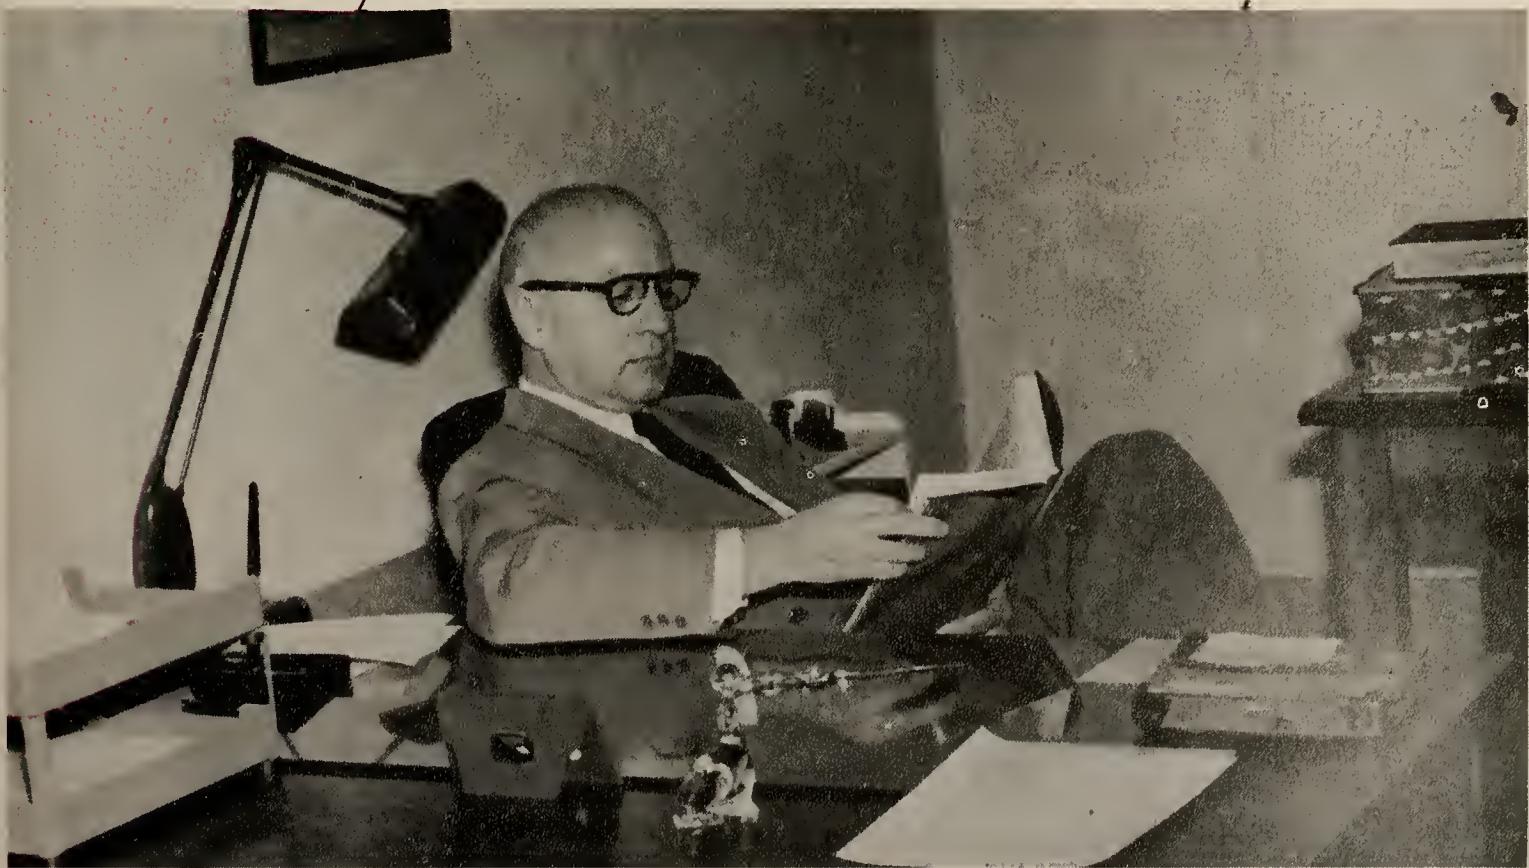

Dr. C. W. Thomasson

Henderson State Teachers College
Arkadelphia, Arkansas

To the Student Body:

The greatness of a school is measured by those who foster it. Many times we take for granted the efforts of those persons to whom we are indebted for our wonderful school. This STAR is dedicated to a teacher whose constant work has been a decisive factor in making the Henderson of today. His was the task of organizing and administering our present graduate program. The number of students influenced by his counseling will never be known. But in those moments of consultation, many a problem has been lightened and many a future determined. It is with admiration and gratitude that the 1957 Star is dedicated to Dr. C. W. Thomasson.

Sincerely
The Editors

DEDICATION

IN MEMORIAM

The 1957 STAR is published in memoriam to Dr. Otis Whaley, who served for years as professor of economics and chairman of the logic faculty at Henderson State. Dr. Whaley died in 1956.

Rising at 6:30 on Monday morning is early for anyone, even Ben Humphrey, president of the senior class.

A Week at H.S.T.C.

A traditional blue Monday signals the beginning of another week.

Monday morning has made its bow again. Everyone has to get back into the swing of things after a most enjoyable week-end of pleasure and relaxation. On Monday, the most difficult tasks are getting up and getting to that first class on time . . .

Ben, senior from DeQueen, enters class late.

Ben and Kay Kent are among regular visitors to the bookstore. Here they chat with Ralph McLean and Peggy Wilson over a coke.

Even for lunch there is a line. One advantage, however, of the chow-line is that Ben gets to visit with Lil Cearley.

Monday

It seems as though everyone has homework and that means going to the library. Shown here are Kay Kent and Ben.

A popular game in the dorms seems to be cards . . . with coke bottle tops, of course. Charles Chamberless, Jack Robey, Ben and Johnny Cox must all have winning hands.

What a wonderful day! She looked so pretty tonight! Gosh, I've got an eight in the morning! That is probably what Ben thinks as he takes his shower.

Tuesday

What would a week be if it didn't rain. Millie Villa and Mae scurry to their next class trying to stay dry.

For many ambitious students Tuesdays means more than classes, study and play. It means working their way through college to help their families pay the many expenses. These students who work have a rather difficult time trying to find study hours. But they seem to take their educational responsibility seriously because they realize the cost of their training.

Mae, sophomore of Alexander, pauses at the door of the Laura Lee Henson room before going to Student Christian Association.

Kathy Hays introduces the candidates for the ugliest man contest in assembly.

Attention! Wednesday afternoon is the day for drill as all of the ROTC students will know. Brass is shined and uniforms checked to be sure that everything is letter perfect.

Fun night, time to relax for a few hours and dance and talk with your friends. Almost every Wednesday night there is a record dance at Haygood.

Almost any afternoon whiffs of smoke can be seen coming from McElhannon as a chemistry lab is in progress. Mr. Robinson explains a formula as Buddy Denny and Marilyn Anderson set up apparatus.

A week wouldn't be complete unless someone got a ducking in the fish pond. Lee Lane and Bob Burnside got thrown in for being pinned.

A Week at H.S.T.C.

Diddle Smith and Don Chunn catch up on the news while they are waiting in the lounge for their dates.

Thursday night seems to be the most popular night for dating around HSTC. Everyone is caught up on their studying or else they just let it pass and take time out for a date. There is usually something happening on campus but Robert "Diddle" Smith and Don Chunn decided to take Sue Winston and Sylvia Gipson to the movie down town.

Four tickets please. Don buys the tickets while Sue, Sylvia and Diddle look on.

As Weekend Approaches

No date is complete without a trip to the Tavern for coffee and visits with friends.

The lights just flicked so that means that it's time to have that good night kiss and take the girls in.

Friday

Madene Neal and Patsy Moncus supervise as their luggage is put into the car. Many of the students spend weekends at home.

'houghts Are Turned To Home And Relaxation

C. P. Trice, junior from El Dorado, spends his Friday afternoon relaxing in his room reading his favorite magazine.

Among the couples dancing at the KSK house are Ann Donnelly, Bill Wray and Gail Jacks, Buddy Elkins.

A Week at H.S.T.C.

Saturday

Shirley Buchanan, sophomore from Camden, begins her day with mop in hand and seems determined to get that "Excellent" on the next room check.

Shirley and Quinton Taggart meet to check their mail at the bookstore . . . no bills we hope.

Shirley adds the finishing touches before braving the brisk fall weather to root for the Reddies.

Ends A Week
Of Collegiate Activities

Tag too has dressed out and has a pregame chat to chase away those butterflies. Tension runs high in the locker room.

Shirley joins with some of her friends to help cheer the Reddies and Tag on to victory.

The dance after the game which is held at Haygood is more festive than some because everyone is happy over another victory.

After the dance its back to the dorm for Shirley and Tag . . . a few words . . . an embrace and mmmmm . . . Who can blame them?

Sunday Begins A New Week

Of Study And Play At HSTC

Betty Langdon and Linda Scott leave Mooney for Sunday School at their various churches.

College life is sometimes a hard life . . . the struggle to keep awake in the classroom . . . the long, long labs in which we are required to prove again things and theorems which have already been proved and written into textbooks hundreds of times by wiser heads . . . the years spent laboring in silence in the library . . . from beanie days to baccalaureate it's work, work, work.

But as we begin to take part in campus activities and organizations, as we learn to combine a healthy portion of fun and companionship with scholarship . . . college takes on a grand new meaning and perspective. Funny, but the harder we have worked, the more fun we have comparing experiences with friends at meetings, balls, games, shows and homecomings.

Everyone will admit that registration is confusing even for upper classmen. Here one of the home economics majors talks over her problems with Miss Juanita Ford, of the home economics department.

Students stand in the last registration line. Here they are paying their fees to Sue Winston and Mary Lou Wilkerson.

During orientation week dances become a place to meet new friends and renew old acquaintances.

At the formal all-school dance everyone has to first pass through the receiving line.

Those beanies, that bewildered look, and the meetings at the sunken garden mean that these freshmen are becoming true Reddies . . .

Assemblies

"What's for assembly today?" Is a familiar question on Wednesday mornings. The programs each Wednesday vary from pep rallies to talent shows but they are usually well worth the hour of required time each week.

Felix Thompson can always be found at the organ playing the Star Spangled Banner to open and the Alma Mater to close each assembly.

Bill Shirran presents Coach Morton Hutto a gift from the basketball boys in a basketball recognition day.

Willie Webb and Bill Thomason pantomime the song, "Dear John."

Jack Gordon on the clarinet and his combo always get recalls when they play for the student body.

Lillian Miller, Susan Henson and Martha Andrus harmonize during the talent assembly.

Homecoming

Homecoming

Many Alumni Returned Game Climaxed Festivities

Hundreds of alumni were welcomed back to the Henderson campus for the homecoming festivities. Wednesday there was a pep rally downtown followed by the coronation ceremony and a dance that night. Thursday the exhibits were judged, the football game was played, followed by an alumni coffee and an after-game dance.

Many of the students worked late into the night getting everything in readiness for the big weekend. Here Shirley Buchanon, Gail Reveley, and Helen Childers are covering a chair for the coronation.

The pep rally that was held Wednesday downtown was a big success with the cheerleaders and a pep band there to booster the "Reddie Spirit." After the pep rally a snake dance was held down main street.

The queen and her husband, John, after the football game. Henderson won over State Teachers 26 to 7.

Three beautiful girls, Lillian Miller, Susan Henson and Martha Andrus sang during the intermission at the Christmas dance.

The cast from the opera, "Amahl and the Night Visitors," Judy Bell and Marla Mills were Amahl and the mother.

This Christmas card came alive with dancers. Shown here are Virginia Coleman, Gail Jacks, Diane Leverett, Bail Reveley and Betty Hauchins.

Christmas came with the long line of special programs and parties. All of the dorms smelled like the cedar of Christmas trees and carolers could be heard every night. Some of the special events were the opera, "Amahl and The Night Visitors," the Modern Dance Christmas Program, the Madrigal Christmas Concert and the formal Christmas dance. After a busy and exciting holiday season Christmas holidays began.

The Madrigal Christmas Concert with Mr. Eugene Kuyper directing.

Outstanding Senior Woman

For the first year the Association of Women Students selected an Outstanding Senior Woman. Twenty outstanding senior women were selected by the council. These selections were based on personality, character and leadership. Then the entire women student body elected Miss Diane Dodson, senior from DeQueen, Outstanding Senior Woman. Peggy Wilson, AWS president, presented her with an engraved sterling silver bracelet.

Peggy Wilson presents the gift to Diane Dodson for being elected Outstanding Senior Woman of 1957.

Miss Diane Dodson was named AWS Outstanding Senior Woman at Henderson.

The war has ceased but the audience is on edge of revolt from the hilarity of the closing moments of the play.

The stage crew makes a final check before the curtain goes up.

Jo Ann Jones, Sabina, expounds some of the plays subtle intellectualism.

"Where's the cotton pickin' boat?" asks this perplexed mammoth as the water and laughter rises.

"For the last two thousand years I have been hairy, viviparous, and diaphragmatic!" exhorts Kenneth Gilliam in climax to a speech to the collected delegates of the physical world.

THE SKIN OF OUR TEETH

The first production of the year was Thornton Wilder's "The Skin of Our Teeth." In the traditional Wilder subtleness the play entwined humor, satirical pessimism and suave philosophy. Dealing with the plight of mankind from the creation to the present, Wilder combined Greek drama with scripture. The cast . . . gained the fun of opening night and lost much sleep. The directors . . . Mr. Kelmer Baxter, faculty director, and Jean Brown, student director, lots of experience.

The cast relaxes for a moment during the preliminary readings.

Miss Kay Kent, 1956-57 Military Sponsor reigned over the 1957 Military Ball.

The object to this game is to find the right girl to march with.

Don Hicks and Amelia Brown pose for the photographers during the dance. The girls were dressed in their prettiest formals and the ROTC uniforms were usual attire.

The 19th annual Military Ball, one of the outstanding dances of the year, was held March 2 at Day Armory. The central theme was "Underwater Fantasy." Tommy Scott and his Orchestra played for the third consecutive year. The grand march was led by Cadet Lt. Col. Charles Sharp, Cadet Battalion Commander, and Military Sponsor Kay Kent.

Judging from the smiles Tommy Scott and his orchestra must be playing a favorite song for dancing. Some of the decorations that carried out the theme, Underwater Fantasy, can be seen.

Seniors

James Russell, 1956 student body president crowns Miss Joie Thompson, senior of Little Rock, Reddie Day Queen.

The girls of ISA expound close harmony for the enjoyment of guests and students as the singing contest reaches fever pitch.

The alarm clocks went off early on May 1, the date of Henderson's most awaited day. For on this day Henderson puts on its best to be observed by an innumerable influx of high school seniors. Reddie Day Queen Joie Thompson was crowned as the first event of the day. Then came the band concert under the pines, the skits by campus organizations and the tours of the campus. The afternoon featured the speech department's presentation of "In Honor of Ignorance," followed by the singing contest and a style show. After a bit of recuperation came the climax to the events . . . the Reddie Day dance with music in the Collegiate style.

These enthusiastic gymnasts go through the intricacies of pyramid building.

Bill Shirron and Jim Atwell lampoon the cadre with their roaring success in the skit contest.

Work Begins On New Student Union

s an old song title portrays . . . "A Pretty Girl Is Like A Melody." Here is a symphony of beauty representative of the fairest girls on our campus. Perfect posture, pleasing personality, and willingness to make friends are the elements that placed these beauties where they belong—in the section of our yearbook reserved for glamour.

Beauty Judges Select

Star Beauties

Twenty beautiful HTSC girls paraded before the entire student body who selected the five finalists. The pictures of the finalists were then sent to Harry Conover and Candy Jones Conover, head of the famous television model agency in New York, to be judged.

In their letter they said, "We particularly felt that our number one selection, Miss Roena Ross, represented the 3 B's we so greatly admire . . . Beauty, Brains and Breeding. Her gentle look of "believable beauty" typifies today's loveliest personalities.

t all began with calisthenics and skull sessions. The coaches watched and wondered. The hours passed and the athletes became hard and regained that necessary stamina. Then came the game . . . the crowd waited and cheered. The team appeared and soon the game was under way . . . Game followed game and the sports varied with the season. We won many and lost some . . . but the effort of the coaching staff and the laborious hours endured by the players combined to give us thrills that we can never forget.

Athletics unified the school as nothing else can . . . Coaches, players, cheerleaders, and fans, all working toward a goal. But it wasn't the final score that counted most . . . it was the Reddie tradition of fine sportsmanship . . . that made us proud.

--Cheerleaders--

The regular cheerleaders for 1956-57 season were, left to right: Don Bailey, Marilyn Edwards, C. P. Trice, Bea Root, Joe Toland, Martha Johnson, Willie Webb, and Sara Meehan. The same cheerleaders yell for both football and basketball.

Behind the team of fighting men there is a group which gives them the extra support they need. These are the cheerleaders—the ones who give enough pep when we're behind to catch up and the ones who help show appreciation of the student body for a job well done. They work together to steer the crowd, team, and school toward a single goal, and in the end give a great big push to that thing called "Reddie Spirit."

Cheerleaders Willie, Sara, Joe, Martha Jo, C. P., Sue, Don and Jean lead the snake dance down main street during the homecoming pep rally. The school spirit among the students was especially high during this homecoming week.

Reddie Band

The Henderson Reddie Band can always be depended on to give that extra bit of pep needed during a football game to push the boys on for another touchdown. In their new maroon and oxford gray uniforms the band presented varied half time shows under the direction of Orville Kelley. The band also presented two annual concerts in Arkansas Hall and one on Reddie Day for the visitors.

Basketball At Henderson State

Coach Morton Hutto

Coach Morton Hutto's first year as head basketball coach at Henderson was a very successful one. During this year Coach Hutto has gained the respect and admiration of his boys and the students for his knowledge of basketball and for his quiet way in handling a tough situation. The Reddie basketball team ended the season with eight wins and eight losses.

"Spring is here," and so are the intramural softball teams back in action after a few months off for winter and the bad weather that comes with it.

Intramural sports at Henderson are as much a part of the school as the classes. It gives everyone a chance to play their sport, basketball, as well as softball.

The following pictures show how serious each plays his game.

In the Spring half of the softball league, Bucky White is sliding home for another run for the Phi Lambs. The Phi Lambs beat the Ramblers that game, 10 to 3. Onlookers are Al Cash, catching; Jerry Erwin, Bill Shirron, Don Philips, and Gary Nelson.

A game going on in the fall. Don Barker looks as though he may hit it, but where is it! Umpiring is Diddle Smith.

Bob Burnside is well on his way around first base, while the opposition fields the ball.

ith days of wandering from class to class we become so familiar with the campus landmarks that they seem only functional to our purposes. But the memories lingering here are deserving of recollection and appreciation, for those hours which will all too soon be a part of the past.

The classrooms where we struggled to absorb the conveyed facts and mold them into workable notes . . . the armory where we watched the corps of freshmen gradually coordinate into an organized unit . . . the dorms with the all night card games and study sessions . . . the gym with fun night . . . the science building with its long labs and physical science classes . . . and the bookstore with the empty mailboxes and a chance to chatter with friends. Each building played its part in our lives here at Henderson.

General College

The curriculum of Henderson includes a core program of basic education for all students and also a panel of elective courses, which permits preparation for specialization in the department of the upper division or the pursuit of pre-professional training. During his freshman and sophomore years at Henderson State Teachers College, about three-fourths of a student's time is focused upon general education and the remainder upon pre-professional preparation.

Fifth-Year Program

In the spring of 1956 the first Master of Science in Education Degrees were conferred from Henderson. Shown above is the class of thirty who received these degrees. The basic purpose of this fifth-year program leading to the Degree of Master of Science in Education is the better preparation and training of teachers for the elementary and secondary schools. Dr. C. W. Thomasson shown to the right is director of graduate studies.

rom the grind of daily classes to graduation day is a long distance apart, but that's why students go to college.

Classes are wonderful things when you look at all the benefits to be derived from attending them. First, you might accidentally hear a funny joke, even one your parents have heard. Second, you might meet someone who could turn out to be a future life mate. That's an old story to college campuses. Or, thirdly, you might even learn something. P arties, plays, teas, business meetings, unexcused absences and on and on — all these and many more make up the functions of the organizations on the Henderson State Teachers College campus.

Pictured above is Sandra Dishongh, a member of Heart and Key, painting one of the backdrops for the homecoming coronation.

With all the opportunities at hand, sad is the plight of the student who doesn't become a member of some active organization . . . he just isn't going to college.

Association of Women Students

The purpose of the Association of Women Students is to promote friendly relations among students, to serve with the counselor of women in governing offenses of dormitory regulations, to foster development of higher ideals and social graces among college women, to coordinate efforts of women for improved facilities, and to uphold the regulations of this college. This year the organization changed its name from Women's Council to the Association of Women Students, and is now affiliated with the state organization.

Men's Council

The purpose of the Men's Council is the improvement of living and social conditions for the men living in the college residence halls. It serves as a medium for the exchange of ideas between the men and the administration. The council is composed of men elected as representatives of the individual dormitories.

Heart and Key

Heart and Key, Henderson's honor service organization, works to develop and encourage the Reddie Spirit. The membership consists of thirty upper-classmen who have been of service to the school. Members are selected three times each year during a formal tapping ceremony. Heart and Key activities include operating a concession stand at all athletic events, planning pep rallies, decorating for Homecoming and Reddie Day activities, leading campus tours for school visitors, and to serve as a booster club for all student activities. This year, Heart and Key took part in the Arkansas Educational Association convention by planning the Henderson luncheon at the Marion Hotel and entertaining with a dance for all teachers attending the convention.

Kathy Hayes and Kenneth Gil-liam are shown on the stage after they got tapped for Heart and Key.

Alpha Chi

The purpose of Alpha Chi is the stimulation, development, and recognition of scholarship and those elements of character that make scholarship effective for good. To be eligible for membership, a student must have a grade average that places him in the upper ten per cent of the junior or senior class. Two initiations are held each year.

The Henderson chapter, known as the Arkansas Epsilon chapter, was installed in the spring of 1953.

The S. C. A. Purpose

The purpose of the Student Christian Association is to provide an organization of students and faculty members united by a common loyalty to Jesus Christ, seeking to promote a Christian atmosphere on the campus through worship, study, and action. The Association meets each Tuesday at 7 p.m. in the Laura Lee Henson Room, and sponsors morning devotionals at 7:40 each morning Monday through Friday for all who wish to attend. At the beginning of each school year the group sponsors a party of old and new students. The Religious Emphasis Week is sponsored by SCA and student committees plan and carry out the major part of this work. The group cooperates in projects of the Christian Association beyond the campus and sponsors World University Service Week each spring. It is the only religious organization on the campus and is open to all students and faculty members.

F.T.A. is the professional organization for college students preparing to become teachers. It places emphasis on character and leadership, providing opportunity for experience and development of professional leadership. The goals of Future Teachers are expressed by Carl Schurz when he says, "Ideals are like stars. You will not succeed in touching them with your hands; but like the seafaring man, you choose them as your guides, and following them, you reach your destiny."

Business and Economics Club

The Business and Economics Club was organized in 1945 for the purpose of stimulating interest in business and economics, fostering business education, promoting better relations between students and teachers, and preparing the members for entrance into the field of business or teaching in the field. To accomplish its aims, the club meets once every month for interesting talks, films, parties, and field trips. It also acts as a service organization.

Independent Student Association

The purpose of the Independent Students Association is to enable the independent students to participate in college activities as a recognized group; to enrich the social life among students not affiliated with other groups; to encourage and develop leadership on the part of the independents; and to utilize the untapped resources of independent students through the actions of a democratic organization. In this way, the association hopes to promote better school spirit at Henderson.

As one of their year's activities, the Independent Student Association had a hobo party.

F

or the socially minded Hendersonian there are numerous national fraternities and sororities on campus. These groups offer the student the closeness of contact that spawns lasting friendships and gives unity to the school year in the form of activities ranging from rush week to the banquets and formal dances.

Greeks

On the Henderson campus there are five fraternities and four sororities. All of these are national organizations. The national fraternities on the campus are Phi Sigma Epsilon, Kappa Sigma Kappa, Phi Lambda Chi, Sigma Phi Epsilon, and Sigma Tau Gamma.

The Rho chapter of Phi Sigma Epsilon came into being on April 13, 1946, and has witnessed rapid growth since. The Phi Sigs sponsor the Starlight Formal plus many other member activities.

Beta chapter of Kappa Sigma Kappa was added to Henderson October 8, 1947, and points with pride to their fraternity house, the only one held by a Greek organization.

The Epsilon chapter of Phi Lambda Chi came to Henderson in 1948. The fraternity originated at state teachers college in Canway in 1925. The Phi Lambs are looking forward to another successful year with a core built primarily around freshmen.

The Beta chapter of Sigma Phi Epsilon is the newest addition to the Henderson fraternity list. Sig Ep was installed May 15, 1954. Now the second largest national fraternity, Sigma Phi Epsilon has over 50,000 men in 143 chapters throughout the United States.

The Alpha Epsilon chapter of Sigma Tau Gamma is Henderson's oldest fraternity. Founded in 1945, Sig Tau has excelled in scholarship and ranked high in membership. The White Rose formal is the outstanding Sig Tau contribution to the Greek social whirl. Sigma Tau Gamma became a national fraternity in 1920.

The Beta Mu chapter of Alpha Sigma Alpha was founded at Henderson eight years ago. The national organization was chartered in 1901 and now has 40 active chapters consisting of over 13,000 members.

The Alpha Gamma chapter of Alpha Sigma Tau was organized on the Henderson campus on May 4, 1946. The national organization was founded in 1899 and now has 24 active chapters with over 6,000 members.

Delta Sigma Epsilon was installed on the Henderson campus in 1946. The sorority was founded in 1914 and now consists of 44 active chapters and a total membership exceeding 13,000.

Sigma Sigma Sigma was chartered on the campus in May of 1946. The national organization was founded in 1898 and now has 54 active chapters with over 17,000 members.

During the year, all Greek organizations have many social activities as well as the philanthropic projects which help the needy people in and around Arkansas. The national sororities are: Alpha Sigma Alpha, Alpha Sigma Tau, Delta Sigma Epsilon, and Sigma Sigma Sigma.

In the social activities, there is the yearly Pan-hellenic Dance given by the sororities. The banquets, rush week, the Christmas formal, and many informal get-togethers.

The fraternities give their dances separately. Sigma Tau Gamma gives the White Rose formal. The Starlight formal is given by Phi Sigma Epsilon, the Harvest Ball by Phi Lambda Chi, the Christmas formal by Kappa Sigma Kappa, and the Western dance by Sigma Phi Epsilon.

Pan-Hellenic Council

Jane Kemp
President

The purpose of pan-hellenic is to promote harmony among sororities. All matters pertaining to the welfare of the four sororities are handled by the pan-hellenic council. It sets rushing rules and regulates the bidding system. The council consists of the president and two elected representatives from each sorority and is advised by Miss Grace Vineyard, counselor for women.

Many teams have put the blow
Of a wheel that's familiar to all.
It's lived by those at Henderson,
But feared by those who fell.

Those Matadors from the south
Are jumpy as can be
For they can still get recall
The wheel of H. S. I. C.

Any time you see a Wonder Boy
From up at Arkansas Tech, it's Quackin' across the way.
Just ask him about the Reddie Wheel.
It'll make him a nervous wreck.

The Weasels are the winners,
but you can let your lot;
They gone against the Reddies.
They have not forgot!

The bears are trying to recover
From the best time that they met.
That Reddie bared from the beam.
He's too much to forget!

As the Bears are back again,
These poor souls will feel and squeak.
For they can't beat the Reddies.
They can't stop that Reddie Wheel!

The Reserve Officers Training Corps provides not only a basis for future defense but is a center of college attention. Each Wednesday afternoon at 1300 the cadre assembles for inspection and drill in the presence of the cadet and regular officers who are more or less "aided" by a group of unofficial observers who harass freely the corps. The first few drills add much to the amusement of the campus; to the bewilderment of freshmen participants; to the detriment of the nerves of the instructors; to the extermination of the landscape.

But as time evolves the corps gradually coordinates into a well functioning unit and by federal inspection there is hope that the members of the cadre may become efficient soldiers. While the two year men soon disappear from the scene, the advanced students go to Hood and other camps for summer training and in the fall to the classrooms for more information. After four years of work there is the reward of becoming a commissioned officer for those who continue their training. For those who do not: the military ball.

"Come in, Neighbor..."

You're welcome at the Sign of the Lion!"

The Sign of the Lion is the Sign of a Good Neighbor . . . your Southern friend. Next time you see this familiar sign, drive in and fill 'er up with Lion Premium or Lion Regular—the only gasolines in the world with Lionite, the additive that actually supercharges your motor. And when it's time to add or change motor oil, be sure you get new Advanced-Formula Naturalube H.D.—the motor oil that fights acid wear longer than other oils tested, and boosts gasoline power as much as 4 octane points.

For all your driving needs, stop at the Sign of the Lion. You'll find your Lion Oil Dealer will help keep your car running better . . . longer.

Keep Arkansas Green!

One of Arkansas' vitally important crops is pine timber. With the state's lumber industry largely committed to forest management for perpetual growth, the challenge to all of us is to KEEP IT GREEN. • Actively committed to that objective, Bradley solicits your effective cooperation in its accomplishment.
